

TRUCK BURNED SATURDAY - A NARROW ESCAPE

When the large Denby truck of the Pollock Milling and Elevator Co., burned Saturday as it was returning from a trip to the country, Lyle Thomas, the driver narrowly escaped being burned. Fortunately he succeeded in getting out of the enclosed driver's seat in a very nick of time. Because of the cold and a faulty latch on one of the doors Mr. Thomas had wired the door closed. When he discovered the fire it had advanced sufficiently to menace him seriously. He had a hard time to release the door of his cab and only secured his exit in time to escape a serious burning. The machine was covered by insurance.
